Summary: A thank-you gift for a friend. Would you prefer to fly by will power or with wings?

Flight

Flight

Soaring, roaring,

Flying high

Fighting rough

being rough

To fly self propelled

so high

Would you to

with wings

Or by thought?

Bulky wings

with a wingspan longer than you are tall?

Clawed wings

that cut friends?

Membranes stretched,
easily torn?
With thought where a lapse of concentration will send you to the ground?
No clear sign or difference
to being in air?
Flight.
Not bound to earth
Free from troubles
to pet clouds.
Seeing all those bound to ground during a dive.
Stretching limbs to prepare
The Grand Finale,
The final dive Sweeping in short a crash
To fly self propelled,
Above the ground.
Would you ask for wings
Or would you go by thought?
Rushing wind soothing nerves fast or slow racing, tricks or graceful glides

Solid wings

Stretching muscles

Loose thought

Wild flight

Flight by wing

Flight by thought

Both will learn

As must be done

For none may fly

Without teachings

Both will learn

Both will crash

Both will try again

If you could fly

by wing or thought,

Would you be a dragon

â€|

or a ghost?
